Men's Brotherhood Endorses Movement

Oakland, Cal. Aug. 13, 1913. EDITOR TRIBUNE: I am instructed to inform you that resolutions were passed at the last executive meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian Church, most heartly endorsing your position in the movement to reduce the number of saloons to 200 and to re-strict them to the business section. Such a cause should receive not only the encouragement, but the active co-operation of all who are truly interested in the advancement of the best civic conditions.
On behalf of the Men's Brotherhood, I most sincerely wish for your success.

Yours very truly,

BRYAN DOVE OF PEACE SEAL PROVES ANCIENT WAR EAGLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Although now masquerading as Secretary Bryan's "dove of peace" seal which is being attached to peace treation with other nations, it developed today that the design copied from an with siner nations, it developed today that the design, copied from an ancient coin, really represents the war eagle and not a cooing dove. In addition the design includes the figure of the war god, Zens, who is seated on a throne with a scepter, or "big stick," in his powerful class. Secretary Bryan had adopted the seal as emblematic of his desire for world amity.

The revelation was made in a letter to the secretary from Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, British ambassador to this country, who made inquiries of the British museum. There it was found that the coin, which Secretary Bryan picked up in Palestine while on a trip around the world, was of the time of Alexander the Great. On the other side from that bearing the bird which Secretary Bryan adopted is a head of Hermiles farmous Great have of mighty dead. cules, famous Greek hero of mighty deeds.

In addition to the official seal of state it has been customary for secretaries of state when signing treaties to use also a personal seal. When Secretary Bryan learned of this custom he had a seal made from the part of the curriculum.

The preparatory work in the forge shop consists of hardling from and steel and of brazing. The iron work consists of bending and twisting, of forging bolts and of making a number of welds, such as right angle and Thwelds. Then the harding of angle and T-welds. Then the brazing of band saws and broken parts of cast iron The brazing of cast iron is comparatively rew, its general use dating back not hore than 10 years. The school has no brazing torches, and the boys are doing this work successfully in the blacksmith forges. The steel work consists of welding and of forging wrenches, hammers, flatters, chisels and all other tools used in firging. The students are taught, too, to temper their own tools.

During the past few years the following machines have been added: Five engine lattes, a Perkins, a Lodge and Shipley, a Kairbanks a Prentiss Brothers and an American, a Queen City shaper, a Barnes drill press, a Brown and Sharp universal milling machine, a Greenfield universal angle and T-welds. BERLIN, Aug. 15—Herr Hoinken, Birector of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, has declared in favor of German participation in the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915. It is understood that the kaiser will shortly give an audience to F. J. V. Skiff, who is furthering the interests of the exposition. The signs of a growing inclination in favor of German participation in the exposition have stirred the opponents of this idea, who, through the Cologne Gazette, reiterate their contention that the result of the expositions at Chi-cago and St. Louis did not compensate erman merchants for the expense incurred. The chief grievance, however, seems o he "the inconsiderate character of the American commercial policy," American system of tariff supervision. the inadequate protection of foreigners against illicit competition and the alleged American campaign against German dyeing and shipping.

MISCELLANEOUS PLAYER PIANOS

Used Weber Pianola Pianos, Autopianos, Bungalow Player Pianos, Byrne Player Pianos, Weiler Player Pianos, and many others too numerous to mention, have been taken in trade on Players in our regular line and on Grand Pianos. The prices on these have been fixed as low in some cases as $225.

PIANOS REDUCED

The very best pianos that have ever been manufactured. Pianos known as the best through three generations may be bought during this sale in some instances for prices often asked for instruments bearing meaningless names.

KNABE, THE PIANO OF PERSONALITY

A large number of pianos are shown on our third floor. These are in many cases absolutely new. Those in case designs of discontinued styles have been reduced.

J. & C. FISCHER

There are several thousand Fischer Pianos in daily use in Oakland. This famous piano needs no introduction to those who recognize tonal and lasting quality in a piano. New case designs have been ordered, hence the prices of those in stock have been lowered to close them out quickly.

VOSE & SONS

Several slightly shopworn Vose Pianos have been placed in the sale at figures much lower than usual.

KOHLER & CHASE

A few left of these popular instruments. Rented to teachers or loaned to visiting artists. Just as good as new. Are being offered at prices attractively low.

USED PIANUS

Nearly two hundred used pianos of all makes and grades are occupying space that is needed for new goods. These are being sold at a sacrifice. Each one carries our exchange privilege and may be bought on the lowest terms. The list comprises Knabe, Kohler & Chase, Hazelton, Steinway, Decker Brothers, Mason & Hamlin, Estey, Gabler. CRATER LAKE RUN

Autoists Plan Tour to Santa Cruz Tomorrow; Program Arranged.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

The wonderful Northern tour, embracng the Crater Lake and Klamath Falls country, which has been the task of motoring circles this season, is very ably described by F. T. Scripps, who has just returned from his trip in a Vella car, in company with his son, T. O. Scripps, A. E. Holloway, Joseph Jessup and Driver F. J. Higgins.

Scripps says: "Our trip through the Northwest was in marked contrast with the one we took a few years ago. The wonderful changes in the construction of motor cars within the last few years was most forcibly demonstrated to me on this tour. We started out with fear and misgivings, having in our minds our experi ences of our previous trip; but the hard-

Evil Must Not Be Protected.

The proposition to make it a criminal offense for minors to misrepresent their ages in asking to be served with liquor in cases and saloons has only to be stated in another way to be revealed as a protection for the chief offender. Suppose, for instance, that a law should be passed making it a criminal offense for a girl under the age of consent to misrepresent her age to the man who cohabits with her. Such a law would be a protection for wretches who debauch children.

It is precisely the same rule that it is proposed to apply to the sale of liquor to minors. Every man brought to book for holding illicit relations with a girl beneath the age of sixteen would swear that she told him she was older, and would ask that she be arrested and purished for deceiving him. The effect would be to make it safe to commit the very crime the law was enacted to prevent and punish. By subjecting the minor who buys and drinks the liquor, immunity is given to the man who sells it to him. Consequently intemperance among adolescents will increase and the law will be powerless to stop it.

Of course it is reprehensible for how under age to falsely represent themselves as being older than they are, but making the deception a penal offense encourages the very evil that it is the duty of society to abate.

The peril of selling liquor to minors must not be removed or mitigated. Doubtless it inflicts hardship in some cases, and exnoses men who unwittingly violate the law to penalties they do not deserve. Nevertheless, the law cannot be relaxed in a way tection for the young. The law should not set up an excuse for violating it nor provide a defense for those who wilfully disregard its essential purpose.

To Mr. Nate Coghlan belongs the distinction, doubtless highly prized, of showing what honorable offices a member of a noble profession may perform in defense of a contemptible client and an ignoble cause. In his code of professional ethics it seems that everything should be sacrificed in the effort to save a client from the operation of the law he has violated. A lawyer so engaged owes nothing to society, to the law of which he is theoretically a servant, to the ordinary principles of fairplay or the canons of decency. Mr. Coghlan's idea seems to be that every witness who testifies against a person accused of crime should be treated as a criminal, insulted and browbeaten, humiliated and badgered by questions relating to immaterial matters, asked solely to embarrass and shame the person testifying. Mr. Coghlan stripped himself of every rag of shame in bringing out the most intimate details of Marsha Warrington's amour with Maury I. Diggs, apparently on the theory that the more abandoned her conduct with the defendant was, the more chiralrous, honorable and innocent Diggs must appear. A manly defense truly! Made in manly fashion by a manly attorney in defense of a manly client. If the law be not a noble profession, some of those who pursue it are certainly of noble mind.

Ragtime and Morals.

Society has defied preachers, dancing masters and moralists and decided to "rag." So "ragging" is a society function at watering places and summer resorts. It all comes to the method of dancing rather than the style. Many who deem the rag dances vulgar and demoralizing loosely call them "animal" dances." The pleasure of all dancing is sensuous. Whether it is future, instead of "River" consumers will find in the market resensual or not depends upon the conduct of the dancers. Any dance can be made obscenely suggestive by the way it is performed Even the plain walte can be made crossly indecent. The interesting region in the State same is to be said of almost any dance save the grave, stately old-fashioned minuet, in which all personal contact is avoided and the movements are timed to slow music, and the beauty of the dance depends upon the gracious, almost solemn, courtesy with which the figures are executed.

The rag dance goes to the other extreme. It is primitive and highly emotional, which is to say that it is exhilarating to the physical senses. It readily lends itself to abandon. There is no measure in the movements, no regulated figures to hold the dancers within the bounds of decorum. Hence the rag dance frequently degenerates into license and abandon.

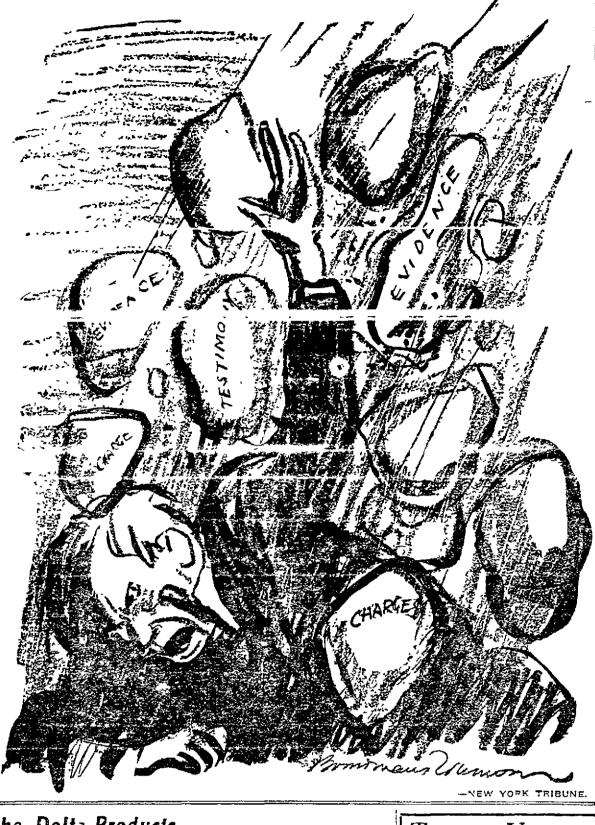

Still it is not necessarily indecent or demoralizing. One of the chief objections to it is that its poses are ungraceful and unconventional and afford opportunities for contacts which are repugnant to delicacy and fatal to modesty. But, after all is said and deportment of the dancers. It can be free from offense or bestizlly low as the dancers determine for themselves.

Fashion has its follies, but we cannot agree with the proposition that society is wilfully indecent in turning to the rag dance. disappeared. Nor can we believe that this form of dancing descends to the level pictured by those who abhor it, in homes of culture and in resorts frequented by people of undoubted respectability, refinement and education. The orgies of the Barbary Coast dives must not be confounded with the festivities of decent people in decent places. The dances go under the same name, but they are danced in a different way and under different auspices.

The craze for ragtime, in music as well as in dancing, is atavistic. It is a recrudescence of primitive tastes and emotions and is sense a protest against excessive artificiality. It is an asaction of primal instinct, a rebellion against sham conventions, if not altogether wholesome is a manifestation of animal th and spirits not yet crusted and corseted with pretense. It not an evidence of moral degeneracy, but of healthy, normal F and the estificiality that break down and trampts on is more destructive, just as refined vice is far more deadrielding to primitive passions. One expresses physical meral decadence, while the other is a manifestation of meetacy of animal health and vigor and high spirits. but the antithesis of the anaemic, sterilized, instinct which converts men and women into takes its way. etualizes the natural passions and emotions whicht by strange and abhorrent practices

The Lady and the Ballet.

A male citizen does not lose his political status when he marries a woman who is a citizen of some other country. If women are to have equal political rights with men, why should a woman citizen of the United States lose her citizenship and right to vote Catholic Crurch. Alameda, has gone on by marrying the subject of some other country? However, the his vacation, and his pulpit will principle is imbedded in our law that the status of the husband governs the status of the wife. The law of California confers the inight by request of the Macdonough pat franchise on women, but Mrs. Mackenzie Gordon, a native-born American, has lost her right to vote because she married an Eng-lacting in the history of the stage. lish subject. She is taking her case to the United States Supreme Court in an effort to regain what she deems to be her rights...

Of course the legal doctrine that the status of the wife is deand done, the character of the dance is determined by the conduct termined by the status of the husband is a corollary of the old the Jews to Rouman's would be an ir rule that only males were eligible to the full rights of citizenship. > Japanese and Chinese are not eligible to naturalization; if born outside this country they can never become citizens of the United States. But a Japanese or Chinese born in the United States is a citizen by right of birth. He can marry a woman born in some other country and still retain his citizenship. But a woman of Chinese or Japanese parentage born in this country loses her citizenship if she marries a foreigner even if he be eligible to naturalization. Her brother can marry a woman of China or Japan without losing any of his political rights.

In the case of Mrs. Gordon, an educated woman who is a citizen by right of birth has been deprived of her right to vote because her husband is not a citizen and refuses to become one. She is the victim of an old rule of law growing out of an obsolete and abandoned condition. She is suffering a disability resulting from by. KANSAS CITY, Aug. 15 .- How to get water for man and beast and how to save a little out of wrecked crops corn presented to Missouri. Kansas and Oklahoma an increasingly serious problem today. It was the tweifth day of intense heat.

There were scattered showers yesterday and last night. Most of them were ineffectual entirely, and while so much as half an inch of water fell yesterday at Topeka, it was within barrowly restricted areas.

Long trains of tank cars supply several Oklahoma and Western Kan-Pas towns with all the water they get. A train of thirty cars of water was shipped from Pittsburg, Kans., early today to the mines of a coal company in the Pittsburg district. The expense of shipping water, however, is guoted this week, has met with success in bave shut down.

sas, where no rain has fallen in two months, the few wells that still give water are surrounded by campers, families that have closed house and gone to tent near a water source.
From Alma, Kans., came a report, vouched for by one of the city fathers, that a woman, wishing to verify or kill forever the old story of frying an egg in the sun, had prepared a fresh laid one nicely in a skillet with but-ter and "fried it to a T" on a flag-stone before her door with only the sun for heat.

Fire, which did nearly a thou dollars' damage in a home at Enterprise, Kans., yesterday, was attributed to the sun's rays shining through a lamp chimney in a window on papers on a desk.

Before noon in most sections of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma the mercury was well on the way to the hundred mark. In Tokepa last night was the eleventh during which the ther-mometer had not gone below 75. Last night's minimum there was 77.

MAN IN LOVE HAS PRIVILEGE OF LYING, RULES JUDGE GUY

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.-That a man who is in love is privileged to lie was the roling handed down yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Guy. To quote the instice:

"It is also a well-known principle that in the state of mental exaltation accompanying courtship, statements made as to mental, moral financial qualifications of the accused may not be too closely scrutinized, nor shall they be held to a strict accountability therefor."

In such a state of mental exaltation Philips Cussack, while courting the woman he afterward married, told her, she avers, that he was earning $30 a week, while as a matter of fact he was a property boy at a theater with a weekly salary of $12.50. Later when Cussack vanished

Take an Interest in Your Appearance

By LILLIAN RUSSELL (Copyright: 1913: by Lillian Russell.)

AKE an interest in your personal appearance. Nothing ages one as much as lack of interest in the personal ap-pearance. If nothing compels you to make a complete toilet for breakfast, and you are thus free to don a wrapper and put on slippers, see that the former is whole and clean and the latter are neither run down at the heel nor out at the

Both of these portions of the toilet have played important parts in the history of many a woman's life, both before and after marriage, their neatness or the reverse being considered typical of general tendencies in the

A girl with even a little ingenulty, some money, and plenty of time, can have no excuse whatever for appearing at the break-fast table in an old waist out at the elbows, or a wrapper with a solled front and frayed hem, or

Her foot, too, will lose its charm when the slipshod coverings, in themselves rusty and ragged, disclose faded hose, once fine and whole, but whose open-work partern is now supplemented in various locations by the disinte-grations of wear and indolence. Perhaps the suggestion may not be palatable and neither is the medicine necessary to correct a disorder of the body; but, girls, keep your hosiery in repair, even if you take some of the time you intend devoting to the elaboration of a new costume to darn these important factors of your toilet. A tiny hole when first discovered needs but a stitch or two to repair it. If neglected, however, it soon enlarges until nine stitches will be needed, and they will not be sightly and may besides hurt sensitive, tender feet, where one would not.

Many young women, I am glad to note, are taking up the old art of mending by darming, and evince as much pride in showing neatly mended articles as skillfully wrought fancy work. A few who prove particularly expert and are glad to turn their skill to some account, add considerably to their pin money by darning and mending delicate hosiery, laces, and linen of those who wish such services rendered.

about in hosiery that has succumbed to friction is annoying and mortifying, and should accident disclose its disintegrated condition the wearer is certain to suffer depreciation in the estimation of the dishosiery and be at her best. A man with no womankind to look after his welfare wears undarned sox with an indifferent sort of resignation, but he who has a wife becomes imbued with quite a different sort of feeling when from the interior of his hose his heels and toes begin exploring expeditions through unwelcome apertures which are too often unheeded by the feminine head of the household.

Remember: The train of thought which connects the unmended socks of a husband with the beauty of his wife may not seem quite clear, but if a husband finds no occasion for rebukes and angry words, then the possibility of frowning wrinkles and sullen expressions upon the wife's face become lessened.

AEOLIANS HOLD FIRST OF SERIES OF DANCES

ALAMEDA. Aug. 15. — Aeolian yachtsmen were the hosts last night for their frierds at the first of a series of monthly dances to be hereafter made a social feature of the popular yachting organization. The cubnouse on San Leandro bay was well filled with the yachtsmen and ladies in sailor costume. Music was furnished by a popular orchestra, and after the dancing refreshments were served.

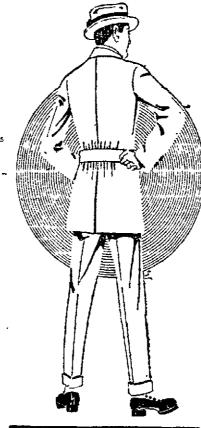

It is the plan of the club to open a campaign to further increase the membership roll and make the club a social as well as yachting center. The first of the monthly dances was pronounced a great success.

This statement was made to the writer this morning by Ad Wolgast, ex-champion light-weight of the world, who has been matched by Jimmy Rohan, the gingery promoter of the Wheelmen's Club, for a tenround go with Joe Azevedo in this city on Labor Day, September 1st. When asked the reason for his action, Wolgast evaded the question by saying that he wanted to have Dundee in the best of condition when he met him in the south.

Although articles for the Labor Day date have not as yet been consummated. both Welgast and Azevedo stated this morning that the match would materialize. "I do not care to sign articles until Tom Jones returns from Los Angeles," said Wolgast, "which he will do very shortly. Of course, I do not expect to have much difficulty in beating long it will take me to turn the trick." Rohan brought matters to a head yesterday afternoon, the announcement of the match being published in last night's "green." Wolgast will receive $2500 for his bit. The affair will be held in the afternoon, and will without question be the biggest puglistic event pulied off here since the ten-round fray of Bob McAllister in the same ring. Young Azevedo is confident of his ability to beat the ex-champion. Joe is but to beat the ex-champion. This evening Promoter Fred Hawes will stage the American club's four-round show at Pavilion rink in San Francisco. 2 show at Pavilion rink in San Francisco.
The card is one of the most attractive set before a local house in many a day, and should produce some interesting milling. It is interesting to note that five men who will appear come from cast of the rockies, and as they all want to show to advantage, the going should be fast. The bouts follow: Harry Trendell vs. Willie Robinson: Loc Kelly vs.
Eddie Hart: Frankle Hennessy vs. Roy
Moore Charles Giveney as Towns Days Moore. Charley Givens vs. Tommy 122 pounds: Stanley Dean vs. Al man of Brooklyn. 158 pounds: (R. F. Sunnerland) S 9 wd Braiton vs. Edge white, 122 pounds; Silver Patchen, b. g., Silver Arrow Billy Holmes vs. Tommy Stevens, 133 J. Villar) d d Pounds, and Bob Smith vs. Soldier Le Roy, 122 pounds.

Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, is scheduled to leave today for Vancouver, where he meets Freddie Weish on September 1st. Willie will get in to his nothern destination on Sunday. Immediately upon his arrival he will begin training, Harry Foley, who is looking after his interests in the north, having the soot already noted for the champion to train at.

SEATTLE. Aug. 15. — Ray Campbell, a local lightweight whose match with Frank Barrieu at Vancouver, B. C., has been celled off, has been selected by Harry Foley as sparring partner for Willie Ritchie, the world's champion lightweight, during his training in Vancouver for the 20-round battle Labor day with Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight champion. Campbell relightweight champion. Campbell returned from Vancouver last night and will join Ritchie when he goes through Seattle Sunday night on his way to

The Fall Crowning Event

To his Royal Majesty, the American citizen, is now in vogue at this store several weeks in advance of other hat sellers. From the manufacturer the hats come direct to this store by express every day. It is an almost usual sight to see the Wells, Fargo Express Company delivering great chipments of the world's latest, newest and best direct from the makers' hands to this store.

Quality De Luxe is one grand scream of the good and beautiful. The artist designer, the creator of the new in Men's Hats that are moulded into shape by the great manufacturers in the most reliable and highest grade of body stock in the Derbies, in black, blue, brown, etc. In soft goods, in plushes, smooth body stocks, also the nappy and cloth finishes in sun ray creations in black, blue, browns, greys, etc., with the velvet ribbons and fancy back bows and other little kinks that make hats pay and not gaudy. The quality De Luxe is style and quality—a high-class $5.00 hat.

Hats worth wearing, and enough of them to select from. Do as the Chinese Do

When You Are Sick Get Well and Stay Well

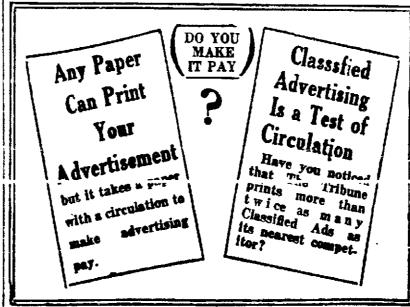

The great Chinese physicians do not operate on their patients. They employ Nature's life-giving herbs and effect miraculous cures which are unobtainable by any other means.

Dr. Chan, who is a recent arrival in this country, is a graduate of the Imperial College of Medicine of Peking and one of China's most famous physicians. He would be pleased to place his knowledge at your disposal. If other remedies have failed to cure you, do not give up hopecome and see him and let him prove to you the value of the Chinese herb system of treatment.
